

EAA e-hotline

News&Views from EAA

APRIL 6, 2007 Volume 7, Number 14

FANTASY AIR ADOPTS LIGHT-SPORT AVIATORS' 'CODE'

Fantasy Air USA of Sanford, North Carolina, U.S. Distributor of Fantasy Air Allegro Light Sport Plane, has adopted the Light-Sport Aviators' Model Code of Conduct. The code presents broad guidance and recommendations to advance flight safety and responsible airmanship in the light-sport community. The code's seven sections include General Responsibilities of Aviators; Passengers and People on the Surface; Training and Proficiency; Security; Environmental Issues; Use of Technology; and Advancement and Promotion of Light Sport Aviation. A copy of the code will be included with each new Allegro aircraft delivery. View the code of conduct and supporting materials at <http://secureav.com>. For more information on Fantasy air, visit www.FantasyAirUSA.com.